Reverently Free India to-day salutes the Flag, the Tri-colour which was and shall ever be an unfailing source of inspiration in the Nation's onward march. Saffron, White and Green—Courage, Truth and Faith.

We are proud of the fact that long before this day of freedom, we adopted these three national colours and all they mean as our symbol and our policy. With courage have we carried on the task of modernising the country electrically. Our unfailing integrity in the manufacture of all our wires and cables has given us faith in our destiny of fulfilling this sacred trust to the Nation.
