

AST BENGAL HINDU
CONFERENCE

SARDAR PATEL'S MESSAGE

CALCUTTA, Aug. 2. Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Home Member of the Interim Government, in a message to the East Bengal Hindu Conference which commenced here today, said: "We cannot fully enjoy the freedom that we have got, unless we can share it with the Hindus of North and East Bengal."

The message, which was sent to Dr. Shyama Prasad Mookherjee, President of the conference, added: "How can any one forget the sufferings and sacrifice which they cheerfully endured for freeing our motherland from foreign domination? Their future welfare must engage most careful and serious attention of the Government and the people of the Indian Union in the light of developments that may take place hereafter."

"Any effort to help them and to organise them effectively has naturally my best wishes," Sardar Patel concluded.

Dr. Shyama Prasad Mookherjee, who presided, said that though Bengal had been partitioned, the mind and thoughts of the Hindus of East and West Bengal could not be divided by a line of demarcation. Unless India was again re-united, full freedom could not be said to have been achieved.

It should be the moral responsibility of the Hindus of West Bengal, Dr. Mookherjee added, to stand by their brothers in East Bengal. What was imperative at this time was that a trusted representative from West Bengal should go to East Bengal to study the situation and see how the rights of the minorities could be best safeguarded.

Dr. Mookherjee discouraged the migration of the well-to-do people from East Bengal as it would cause panic in the minds of the remaining Hindus there.

About 300 delegates from different parts of East Bengal attended the conference, which is being held under the auspices of the Benga Provincial Hindu Mahasabha.—A.P.I.
