Sardar Panikkar On Accession

NEW DELHI, August 1.

The States of India which number for 560 were at no time during the priod of British rule constitutionally entered with India," declared Savar K. M. Panikkan, Prime Minister I Bikaner, in a broadcast last night. Technically they were foreign reas, governed by their Rulers who ad received guarantees of protection, and were in treaty relations with the Crown.

Bardar Panikkar said:
The actual unity of India, which was lestive enough in practice, was achieved the same state it was like a garned of the same state it was like a garned of the same state it was like a garned of the same state it was like a garned of the same state it was like a garned of the same same said to the which was hold together by the which was hold together by the wide was hold together by the substitution of Paramountey, with the ignee Faramountey, the States will technically fail apart. This was what is attached the date when the Crown withdraws authority from India.

SOCIALISTS' ROLE IN FREE INDIA Independent Party?

Mr. Tilak's Sacrifices

Glowing tributes to the sacrifices made by the late Mr. B. G. Tilak, in the cause of the country, were paid at a public meeting organised by the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee on Friday, Mr. Petile Country, and the Country of the C intimate relationship will have to develop between the trade unions and the Socialist Party. A closer integration must be achieved the various strands of the Socialist movement, such as trade unions, kison subhas, co-operatives and 'he political party. Such an integration precludes the association of Socialist trade unions with non-Socialist bodies, like the A.-IT.U.C. and the I.-N.T.U.C."
