SCHEME MUST BE DRAWN UP BY PEOPLE.

CALCUTTA, January 15.

Mrs. Annie Besant delivered an interesting address on "Swaraj Constitution" at the Albert Hall to-day, Sir Devaprasad Sarbadhikari presiding. There was a large attendance. Mrs. Besant after giving a brief history of the movement which brought about the declaration of August 1917 and the visit of Mr. Montagu to India and his tour with Lord Chelmsford which gave birth to their report on which the Reform Bill of 1919 was based, said that the Bill was in many ways unsatisfactory. Congress said, "We had better work it" while others thought that it was better to leave that Bill alone. The only point with which she was concerned was that it was a partial measure. It did not try to establish, self-government in India; it was only a step in that direction and it was made at Westminster and not in India. England made over there. candidate was valid. The President said that it was no doubt against parliamentary procedure and was not usual practice in the House of Commons for the members occupying Ministerial positions to propose or second candidates for presidentship. But there was nothing in the rules of the Punjab Council or Standing Orders which could make the nomination paper invalid. He therefore declared the nomination paper

Sir John Maynard announced that official members would not vote in the election of the president. The ballot papers were then distributed to the members and the voting resulted in favour of Khan Bahadur Sheikh Abdul Qadir who received 41 votes against Gokal Chand Narang, leader of the Swarai Party, who scored 32 votes. The President then declared Sheikh Abdul Qadir elected amidst applause. The newly elected president of the Council then proceeded to pay a tribute on behalf of the Council to Mr. Casson, the retiring president.—Associated Press.
